PAPER STOPPED.
In compliance with government orders the Evening News has discontinued all mail subscriptions not paid to date. The same will be done for city subscribers served by carriers as soon as they can be seen by the collector. The News has always been easy with its subscribers, but the government has laid down this rule and we have no choice except to comply. A sworn statement must be made weekly that all government regulations are being complied with.

Italy has been quiet a long time, but this does not mean that nothing will be done there. When the time comes to strike Foch will launch a thunderbolt on that front, too.

It is one thing to sign up for Liberty Bonds and another to pay for them. Where one is not able to pay cash down, it is best to pay in installments as rapidly as possible. Few people can save money very long and waiting until he gets the entire amount in hand is a bad plan, especially since one has so many calls and places to spend money.

Before America entered the war the Kaiser declared to Ambassador Gerard that he would stand no nonsense from this country after the war in Europe is over. It is no nonsense he is standing just now at the hands of the Americans and it will not be nonsense he will have to stand when the stars and stripes are seen in Berlin. He is getting the real stuff now and the Americans are not yet there in full force.

Pontotoc county is maintaining its past record by going over the top in the Liberty Loan drive in fine shape. No more patriotic people can be found anywhere than those living in Pontotoc county. This was a very unfavorable time for such an undertaking following a very short crop but the people are fully alive to the necessity of the situation and are doing their best. The liberal terms

NOT ALTOGETHER WHAT THE ARTISTS SAY.

You know of course an artist gets paid for singing for a phonograph and he would naturally say a good word for them.

BUT HERE IS THE POINT

What do you say? YOU are the one to be satisfied. YOU are the one who is going to have to listen day in and day out to that Phonograph you buy for your family.

IT RESTS WITH YOU

Whether you want something that will be a LASTING PLEASURE or merely something that will amuse for awhile then lose its glamour as the novelty wears off.

THE NEW EDISON

is not a Novelty. It is a Fact! and we want you to ask any Edison owner if he is tired of his Edison before you buy, and we want you to hear it before you buy any phonograph.

granted by the banks on deferred payments make it possible for all to get by and gradually pay off the obligations incurred and although this will mean some close figuring and new economics, the people will in the end hold a lot of bonds the interest on which will bring thousands of dollars annually to Pontotoc county.

STAND BEHIND THE OFFICERS.

It is now up to every citizen more than ever before to stand squarely behind the officers in their efforts to clean up the city and rid it of undesirable characters. In this time of war and stress there is no place in the hive for drones who exist on the labor of others and they should be made to put a hand to some form of honest toil, if they remain here. All branches of industry are crying for men and there is no excuse for the loafer now. Get in behind the officers and they will do the rest for they are in deadly earnest about ridding the place of undesirables.

FEAR OF INDEMNITIES.

Some of the German writers fear that the Allies will levy a heavy indemnity upon the German nation in case of an Allied victory. They also fear that Alsace and Lorraine will be taken from German control and rightly restored to France. They also fear that some of the Baltic ports will rightly be given to Poland. All of these fears should have been considered before the Potsdam rulers plucked the nation into war.

Of course, the Allies will demand indemnity. It is not France's fault that her country has been overrun and her cities destroyed. It is not France's fault that the men, women and children were transported to Germany and made to work in the fields and shops. Neither is it Belgium's fault that the country has been ruined by the heartless Huns. It has been only a few weeks since the German leaders were talking of indemnity. They were figuring up how much would be demanded of France, how much of Belgium, how much of Serbia, how much of Russia, how much of Britain. Now that the tide has turned and the German armies are facing annihilation, the Germans oppose any indemnity. The debts for these wars must be paid. It is only right and natural that the nation which started this war should have to pay for a big part of it.

TYROLA.

Tyrola people are very uneasy at present on the account of the new disease.

Jim Bevel went to town Saturday to see a doctor. He thinks he has the influenza.

Mrs. M. L. Russel land daughter of Tyrola visited town Saturday, also Mrs. J. R. Smith and Earl and Wesley Stringer.

Miss Minnie Julian has spent the past week at Konawa.

Elsie Smith of Tyrola has the Texas fever which we hope he will overcome as the people would hate to see him and Mrs. Smith move so far away.

Miss Novela, Manley is on the sick list at this writing.

Braze Chandler who is home on a furlough will return to training camp Tuesday. We hope he will go away with a happy heart as he came home with one, willing and ready to stand for his country at any time to bring the old Kaiser to the ground.

The train still runs its route, Tyrola stands as she always did, but the good old boys of a good man's land have sailed away to France. God be merciful to every one that we may meet again and sing the song all good and grand "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

CHEERFUL HEART.

S. A. T. C. NOTES.

No one is permitted to enter the normal grounds after 6 p. m. A guard is on patrol after that hour and no pedestrian or vehicle is allowed to enter.

An Edison and a Victrola are now in the barracks with a great number of records and music is enjoyed morning, noon and night.

The S. A. T. C. extends thanks to Mrs. Anna Ingram, Mrs. R. E. Haynes and many others for a large number of magazines.

A goodly number of the men went to their homes Saturday and Sunday. One-half of the company were given leave for 12 hours Sunday. It was intended for the other half to be off Monday but because of the "flu" in the country all passes have been revoked until further orders.

The Y. W. C. A. girls are arranging for a hostess house for the boys to use when their relatives come to visit them and on other occasions.

The camp is now at work in earnest making soldiers. From three to four hours each day is given to drill and exercises.

A bath house is being built on the east side of the barracks where the men can take shower baths daily. The trench for the sewer line is being dug by the men.

The first long hike was made Monday when Lieut. Smiser took us two miles out main street past the Glenwood school.

The football game with the A. & M. team of Tishomingo scheduled for Friday has been called off on account of the influenza.

Notice, Water Consumers.

Your water bill is due the first of each month and becomes delinquent on the 10th. If your bill is not paid by that time service will be discontinued and it will positively cost you $1.00 to have the water turned on again. This is final notice.

AFTER THE WAR, WHAT?

Already the countries at war are looking ahead to a termination of hostilities and are preparing for that important reconstruction of business and government that is sure to follow.

The greatest economic problems in our nation's existence will confront this government.

Every business, every branch of industry, every profession and trade will be brought home to a realization of the new era that is soon to dawn.

A few years ago few would have dared to suggest many of the transformations of commercial and social conditions that have been accomplished as expediences of war.

Whether many of these advanced steps are to be rescinded or when such action should be considered, remains to be solved in the days that follow peace.

At best the solution of these problems, the safe reconstruction of our numerous economic questions, will call forth the statesman and the leader.

There is unquestionably a popular feeling of trust and confidence in Woodrow Wilson. It is not confined to partisan enthusiasm. Men who think, men who are big enough to express approval of merit wheresoever it exists, are unanimous in the hope that President Wilson will be the chief actor in that important work.

An early peace will see the war terminated while Wilson remains as President. He will not shirk at the task ahead. Immediately he will call on congress to support him in his plans already being prepared.

It is at this crisis that a congress in strict harmony with the President should step forward for action.

A congress divided politically means a congress divided in rendering support to the Chief Executive.

Oklahomans should look ahead—think ahead—plan ahead. Only Democrats representing this state in congress will assure us that we are doing our full part when President Wilson unfolds his plans for reconstruction following the war.

THE PRESIDENT'S WAR PROGRAM

President Wilson is engaged in far-sighted work involving the future of his Nation after the war.

He realizes the period of reconstruction that will follow peace, will have an important bearing on the whole, economical and governmental structure of this country.

To congress he must look for assistance.

Should the Republicans succeed in their efforts to "check" the President by electing a Congress in opposition to his views on war and reconstruction, their first movement would be to elect a Republican Speaker to preside over the lower house.

Who believes that a Republican congressman from Oklahoma would vote for the President's choice for Speaker?

Who believes that a Republican congressman from Oklahoma would refuse to enter his party caucus; thus tying himself to work at all times for partisan measures; to oppose the President—to control all legislation?

Who believes that a Republican congressman from Oklahoma could serve this state best as a member of the opposition, than one who is within the confidence of his President and in hearty accord with the plans for reconstruction and prosecution of the war?

Let the voter of Oklahoma, regardless of partisan inclination, take these questions home to himself; make it a personal matter of securing a voice in National affairs. Let him answer: For or against the President?

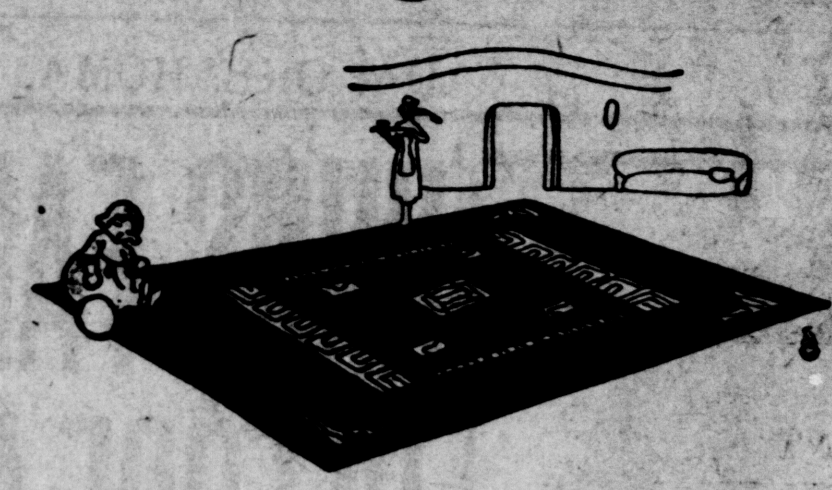

WHEN OUR SOLDIERS RETURN.

Fathers and brothers of soldiers from Oklahoma: When the war is over there will be serious problems to be met at home. First consideration must be extended the returning soldiers. They deserve the best at our command. In nation and state we must stand together. Republican votes in congress will be cast against the President's plan for reconstruction. The party whip will be cracked over Republican heads, and, as usual, the response will be framed by secret party agreement. You, whose blood and flesh is now being guided by President Wilson have confidence in his ability to show the way after peace is declared. Can you, therefore, join in any movement that would "check" the President's determination to push reconstruction work?

Backing up President Wilson means more than an occasional vote cast for a certain war measure. It means assuring the President that we are "going all the way" with him in his every war policy. Only Congressmen in hearty accord with Wilson will so pledge themselves. In Oklahoma the Democratic nominees for Congress alone have given the people that assurance.

Judge Robertson declares he desires the vote of no man who does not want "Oklahoma" to go all the way, with President Wilson. This state has war work ahead that must be performed without delay or discussion. With Judge Robertson as Chief Executive winning the war will be given first consideration.

EXAMPLE OF GERMAN SOLDIERS' TREACHERY

With the American Army in Field, Oct. 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—An instance of cowardly treachery on the part of a captured German officer who had been wounded and who had been offered help by an American officer is told by Lieut. Edward Nichols, of Jamaica, N. Y.

After the last big drive of the allies in August, Lieut. Nichols was placed in charge of a company of soldiers whose task it was to clear the field of American dead and wounded. Although his duties did not require him to aid the German wounded on the field until the Americans were disposed of, Lieut. Nichols, who is only 23 years old, went to the assistance of a German infantry officer who seemed more than any of his comrades to be in need of succor.

The lieutenant was in the act of unfastening his canteen and giving the wounded man a drink of water when the German drew a revolver while the unsuspecting American's face was turned, and aimed it at the head of his rescuer.

Before he could pull the trigger, however, a quick-witted American sergeant plunged his bayonet through the German's heart. The German's act was condemned even by his captured comrades.

Ladies let us make over that Suit or Coat, we can change it and give it the latest neat tailored lips, with a few slight alterations, such as changing the collar, cuffs, new linings or trimmings, will give it the latest style of tailoring. SPURIOUS WAR TALKS STOPPED BY COUNCILS

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 10.—(Special)—The Oklahoma State Council of Defense warns the public against alleged returning American, British or American soldiers who claim to have returned from the front and who seek to make speaking engagements for which admission prices are charged or voluntary contributions taken. In some cases these speakers apply to councils of defense for endorsement.

Only British or Canadian soldiers in uniform who are on the approved list may lecture and others are subject to arrest by United States police under the United States law. Speakers who represent themselves as being American officers or soldiers but appear to be impostors should be reported to the nearest officer of the department of justice which will follow up the case. At the present time American officers and soldiers are forbidden to do any public speaking.

ARE YOU YOUR BROTHER'S KEEPER?

Throughout Oklahoma thousands of service flags hang proudly in the windows of modest homes.

They tell a story no words are capable of expressing.

On the breasts of thousands of men and women of Oklahoma, nearest the hearts of the wearers, are to be seen those badges of honor—the service stars.

"Over there," as well as in the numerous training camps over here, Oklahoma fathers, brothers and sons by the thousands are today face to face with a deep realization of what their country really stands for, what it means to stand shoulder to shoulder; what it means to have co-operation.

Every one of them are for President Wilson to the limit.

Every one of them would, were he here today, assume a non-political attitude in the present campaign.

Every one of them would decide in favor of setting the President free by placing about him co-workers in strict harmony with administrative ideas of conducting the war.

There is a way for the mother, father, and brother of the absent Oklahoma to represent those absentees; to perform a patriotic duty; to stand as their personal representative; to voice their sentiments. It means more than a display of the service star or flag.

This duty involves a patriotic approval of Wilson and what he stands for.

This duty embraces a cordial, emphatic support of those who stand for the Administration and its war plans. There is a Governor to elect this fall. Upon his shoulders will fall the responsibility of Oklahoma's participation in the great war.

There are eight members of Congress and a United States Senator to send to Washington to represent Oklahoma and Oklahoma ideas.

It is at best a duty every Oklahoma family who is represented at the front owes to the President to back up the boys by doing what they would do if here: Stand together as one in hearty approval of the Administration's program.

That means the election of Democrats who will work with Wilson.

It means the defeat of Republicans who would criticize, retard or probably defeat the President's wishes at a critical moment.

After all we are our brother's keeper. We have a duty to him to perform.

STANDING BY THE PRESIDENT

There can be but one issue at the approaching election. No one would have it otherwise if they could, no one could change it if they would. It is the all-absorbing question of standing together as a unit for an early and successful closing of this war.

The issue was plain during the Spanish-American War, when the late President McKinley was Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy. The issues were made plain by ex-President Roosevelt, while he was a candidate for governor of New York, speaking for the election of a Republican Congress and appealing to the citizens to stand behind President McKinley while he conducted the Spanish-American War.

Who is there to deny that in this, the greatest of all wars, when the resources of our Nation were never so greatly taxed; when accomplishments are only secured by the greatest effort—who will say that President Wilson should not have the united support of the nation? Who will say that Oklahoma should send forward a congressional delegation to rebuke his policies and to hinder his program?

WHEN THE PEOPLE BACKED UP THEIR PRESIDENT

Ex-President Benjamin Harrison, speaking at a biennial election while the Spanish-American war was yet in progress, said:

"If the word goes forth that the people of the United States are standing solidly behind the President, the task of the peace commissioners will be easy, but if there is a break in the ranks—if the Democrats score a telling victory, if Democratic Senators, Congressmen, and governors are elected—Spain will see in it a gleam of hope, she will take fresh hope, and a renewal of hostilities, more war, may be necessary to secure to us what we have already won."

The response of the American people to this plea was the election of a Republican congress to sustain the President's war policies and to show to the world that the nation was solidly behind its Commander-in-Chief.

If the plea was logical then, and it was so held by the voters, why question the propriety of a similar summons to the American people to show complete solidarity and unflinching support of our great President, Woodrow Wilson?

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

HAIRY ARMADILLO

"I'm the Hairy Armadillo, if any one should care to know it, and if no one cares to know it I will be good enough and kind enough and sweet enough to give this piece of interesting information free."

"Forsooth you are kind," said Mrs. Hairy Armadillo, "and I am deeply grateful."

"You talk like a—well—like a—well, I don't know just what you talk like, but you talk powerfully foolishly, that I can say."

"Evidently you can say it, for you have said it," Mrs. Hairy Armadillo answered.

"But what did you mean by all that silly talking—saying 'Forsooth' and so forth?" asked the Hairy Armadillo.

"I mean nothing by it," said Mrs. Armadillo, "for creatures don't have to bother about what they say. Didn't you know that, you poor dear?"

"I didn't know it, but I am not a poor dear. I wouldn't be a poor dear. I wouldn't be a poor dear for anything, or any sort of a deer for that matter. Deer have foolish horns and big, beautiful eyes and they are so affectionate and sweet."

"My dear, or rather, my love," said Mrs. Armadillo, "I didn't mean you were the sort of a poor deer you thought I meant."

"You were thinking of the animals called deer, with horns, and who belong to the antelope family. I meant that you were a poor dear—well a poor dear armadillo. And I meant it kindly, a word of sympathy, so to speak."

"I wish," said the Hairy Armadillo, "that you would stop talking in that ridiculous fashion. I don't understand what one thing means before you up and say something else I can't understand."

"I don't get up and say these things at all. I've been lying down all this time, or rather squatting on my floor."

"Oh, well," said the Hairy Armadillo, "I didn't mean you actually got up. I meant that you—well—that you were always saying funny things."

"You would like to have me explain why I say 'Forsooth,' and 'so to speak,' and such sayings of mine, eh?"

"Yes, please," said the Hairy Armadillo politely.

"Well, I can't," said Mrs. Armadillo proudly. "I don't know what such things mean. It's enough that I can say them."

"To me it's fine to be able to talk in a big, clever way. It doesn't matter in the least—to my way of thinking—whether I know what I am talking about or not."

"So I copy what I hear—but no one would be able to understand me when I tried to show off my learning except you. And therefore I have to show off before you. You're so unappreciative, too," she said sadly.

"How can I bother about being appreciative?" the Hairy Armadillo answered, "when I can't even bother about being affectionate? And you can't be affectionate yourself."

"I know," said Mrs. Armadillo. "I heard that we were far from being affectionate, and I can understand it, for our bodies are covered with a hard, hard shell—even our tails are hard."

"Tails?" repeated the Hairy Armadillo. "We haven't more than a tail apiece."

"I wasn't speaking of one of us alone—I was speaking of many of us," said Mrs. Armadillo. "We have more than one tail among a lot of us—we each have our own tail."

"That's so, you're right, except you will talk so queerly," said the Hairy Armadillo.

"Tell me of some of your adventures," said Mrs. Armadillo, for she could see that he was getting a little angry and would cheer up if he talked about himself as is the way with many creatures.

"Ah once," said the Hairy Armadillo, "I ate a chain. It was a very fine and valuable chain. But I thought I could eat a chain as my shell body is covered with rings. It was like being a part of a jewelry store, I felt."

"And another time I ate some birds—yet again I ate some animals. Oh, I've had more things to eat in my life!" he said happily. Poor Mrs. Armadillo knew he was boasting and not speaking the truth at all.

"But you like berries best of all, don't you?" was all she said.

"Have you some for me?" he asked hopefully.

And Mrs. Armadillo gave the Hairy Armadillo, her beloved mate, some choice berries as a fine gift.

Not Forthcoming.

Little Gertrude had been to school for the first time, and when she got home mamma was very anxious to know if she liked it.

"I don't like it a bit," said the child, "and I didn't like teacher, either."

"Why not, dear?" asked her mother.

"Well, she took me to a chair and told me to sit there for the present, and though I sat there for quite a long time she never gave it to me?"

"Never gave you what?"

"The present."

No Doubt.

"If pa did order you from the house, Harold, don't let it make you lose your temper."

"It won't, dear, but I can't help feeling somewhat put out."

DR. C. S. WILKERSON DIES AT SHERMAN

Sherman, Tex., Oct. 9.—Dr. C. S. Wilkerson this afternoon succumbed to the disease that he had been courageously fighting since it first struck Grayson county. He was born in Holland, in Bell county, and received his education at the University of Texas and the University of Tennessee. His father, S. E. Wilkerson, and a brother, Myers O. Wilkerson, all of Venus, who survive him, were at the bedside when the end came. He is also survived by his wife, Mrs. Nora Wilkerson, and his six children, Eleanor, aged 13; Sidney, 11; C. S., Jr., 9; Dillard, 7; Margaret, 4, and Nora 2.

HALF MILLION HUNS IN HASTY RETREAT

With the British Army on Cambrai St. Quentin Front, Oct. 10.—The German troops on a twenty-mile front have been put to full flight and the British cavalry is reported to be pursuing them, the infantry marching in columns of four through villages hastily abandoned by the enemy.

Cambrai has fallen and the British are now well to the east. The deepest gain some hours ago was at least nine miles on this sector, and there are no signs of advance slowing up. On the contrary, it is going faster every hour with clear ground ahead.

Everything that could be burned had been set afire by the enemy before he began what virtually amounts to the rout of no less than thirty divisions, the smashing of which was continued furiously today.

North of Cambrai the Canadians attacked and penetrated deeply, also.

COUNTY AND STATE CONVENTIONS CALLED

Oklahoma City, Sept. 6.—A call for a democratic state convention to be held in Oklahoma City, Sept. 24 for adoption of a platform was issued by the democratic state central committee here yesterday.

Precinct caucuses for the selection of delegates to county conventions will be held in county precincts at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and in city precincts at 8 o'clock at night on September 17. County conventions for the selection of delegates to the state convention will be held on the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 21. The state convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock, probably in the Auditorium on the morning of September 24.

With complete harmony, characteristic of post primary democratic pow-wows in Oklahoma, dominating its every move, the committee organized with the selection of Ben LaFayette of McIntosh county, chairman, succeeding Alger Melton of Chickasha, who did not aspire to reelection. LaFayette had no opposition when voting time came and he was elected to the leadership of his party by acclamation.

R. E. Echols, former state senator of Elk City, who was mentioned in connection with the chairmanship in the early gossip on selections Wednesday night was elected vice chairman and George L. Bowman, whose name was also linked with the chairmanship, was made secretary.

D. B. Welty, Oklahoma county; Dr. C. L. Reeder, Shawnee; J. A. Tillotson, Nowata; Judge Harry L. Fogg, El Reno, and Vice Chairman Echols constitute the new executive committee.

THE KAISER WANTS YOU TO SPEND

Make That Old Suit Do For a While Yet.

This is addressed to you, Mr. American Citizen. It is also addressed to your family. It is up to you whether the war is won or lost. Some will tell you that food will do it. Some will tell you that coal is the thing that is going to save the day. But it is neither of these, nor is it each and every one of them will contribute its bit to the Cause of Democracy. There is only one factor in the struggle that counts—YOU.

You count just as much as the boys at the front. But you have to make yourself count by practicing the closest economy. Take, for instance, the matter of clothing. We all know that clothing is necessary to civilized man. But during these war days it is not necessary to expend the amount of money for them as in the past. Think what it would mean if every man, woman and child in the United States today should buy heavily of clothing. It would mean depriving necessary war industries of much needed labor.

Battlefront indications are that the war is to come to an end within the next year—when our boys get into full stride over there. Now, we can win this war for the side of Justice just as easily as not. Providing, of course, we do just one thing, practice economy. Therefore, we say to you Mr. American Citizen, Don't buy unnecessary clothing this year. Send your old garments to a first-class cleaning and dyeing establishment and put the difference between the cost of refurbishing up old clothing and the cost of new into War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds.

Patriotically yours, PLUMLEE, The Tailor.

NEW REGISTRANTS TO BE CALLED SOON

Washington, Sept. 6.—Provost Marshal General Crowder said today that the national selective service machinery must speed up operations immediately to make it possible to get men from the new 18 to 45 registration on the way to army cantonments by the end of October.

Outlining changes in methods, adopted to that end, General Crowder said questionnaires would go out to registrants before the drawing has been conducted to determine their order of call, and that local boards would be urged to commence classification immediately.

New Men Go in October.

"The necessity of filling the October requisitions either in part or in whole under the new classification," General Crowder said after explaining that a few class-one men from the August 24 registration would be available to fill early October calls, "make it necessary to look forward to substantial speeding up in the work of the local board at that stage of the operation and indeed from the very beginning of the task."

To accomplish this, General Crowder said, local boards are asked to see that the return of the cards from the registration is as prompt as possible and thereafter that the process of assigning serial numbers to the cards is hastened.

Work to be Speeded Up.

Accomplishment of this work inside of ten days now is asked, though in 1917 it took nearly thirty days. It may be possible to hold the drawing on October 2, General Crowder explained, but it cannot be started until the lists of serial number is completed by all boards.

A condenser head at the ice factory was broken Thursday and the entire charge of ammonia lost. After some difficulty another supply of ammonia was obtained from Oklahoma City and part of the machinery started again today while the broken piece was shipped to Dallas to be repaired.

We live to dye, And we dye to live, And it's on dyeing Our living's relying.

So we'll continue to try And continue to dye, Until upon our dying bed We'll think no more of dyeing.

We have dyed for others, Let us dye for you; All our colors are perfect And our dyeing is true.

Bring here your soiled garments Both fancy and plain That seem wholly ruined From fading and stain.

We will take them and make them As good as when new. We have dyed for others, Let us dye for you.

Y. M. C. A. HANDLES MONEY FOR SOLDIERS

Three million dollars, saved by American soldiers in the war zone of France, has been transmitted free of charge to relatives, friends or creditors in America within the last six months. Almost half of this $3,000,000 was sent in July and the first week of August when the ever-increasing force of Yankee soldiers began to understand fully that the transmitting of their money from the extreme front to their homes free of all charge was the latest service offered by the Y. M. C. A. National War Work Council.

From a little experimental trickle of remittances totaling $97,000 in March, when service was inaugurated by the Y. M. C. A., the amounts increased gradually until the monthly total sent home through this agency had reached the three-quarter of a million mark in July and in one list, received on August 21, the Y. M. C. A. National War Work Council was deluged with 18,000 names of persons in this country to whom payments were being directed.

The total number of remittances sent through the Y. M. C. A. from American soldiers in France to payees in this country up to the third week of August was 50,000 which represented $3,000,000. To mail out the checks on these 50,000 remittances from its New York headquarters to the payees in this country, the Y. M. C. A. spent $150,000 in postage stamps alone.

All Red Tape Out.

The system, which the Y. M. C. A. inaugurated as only one of its phases of service to the soldier, is simplified itself. A soldier in the war zone wishing to send money to some one in America, hands the cash to a Y. M. C. A. secretary with the address and leaves the rest to the Red Triangle. The Paris office is notified, and it mails to the New York office an order to mail a check to the payee. This is done as promptly as the check can be made out, signed and forwarded.

The remittances have ranged from thirty cents, which a soldier sent for a government publication, to $3,500. The "Y" officials did not try to pry into the mystery of the big remittance, assuming the man must have been extremely thrifty.

Men appeared to have developed conscience about leaving unpaid bills here. Although the bulk of the remittances are sent with no comment, a few are accompanied by explanations, one man writing that his remittance was to pay his tailor, while another sent his insurance premium. One soldier sent seventy-five cents for a box of candy for his girl.

To sign this great pile of checks the Y. M. C. A. bureau has a check-signing machine on which the operator can sign ten checks simultaneously and which has a capacity of 4,000 checks an hour.

"To persons in this country who have been notified by soldiers to expect remittances and who have not received checks, I would recommend a few day's patience," said Mr. W. D. Bish, Deputy Treasurer of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. "The orders to forward checks to addresses in this country have to be sent to us from Paris by mail. The government will not permit the lists of payees to be sent here by carrier which would lessen the time. Eight weeks normally elapses between the time the soldier hands over the money and the time when the payee receives his check. There may be delays but one thing is sure, the money will be delivered. As soon as a list of remittances is received here, the total represented is deposited in a trust company for the sole purpose of paying the checks drawn for that account and the money is not drawn against for any other purpose.

"There has been congestion of the mails as was shown when we received 18,000 remittances from France on one day. We are expanding the force as rapidly as possible to handle the big influx of orders, especially as we just have been notified that the friendly service of transmitting money has been extended to our forces in Great Britain. We will have everything running smoothly, with checks forwarded promptly."

To meet the sudden increase the Y. M. C. A. has put a night shift of typists on the work of making out the checks.

Camp Montichau, Chateauroux, France, Sunday, July 29, 1918.

My Dear Mother:—

It has been five months today since I started on my journey across the pond to France. I walked the gang plank onto the boat February 27. I will get a service stripe August 27. It seems to me like it has been a long, long time, but I am afraid I will have near onto three service stripes before I see America again.

The drive the Allies are making now between Soissons and Rheims looks fine to me. We are so far back that about all we know of what is going on is what we read in the evening paper.

Some of the boys got a card from our boys at the front on detached service. They have been shelled lately. That is "soured apples" have been falling around there but no one has been unlucky. They are building barracks. I have helped build only one barracks since we came here. I have been cutting rafters with the help of another man for larger structures. They are three by nine inches and are in two pieces. We spike them together using thirty penny nails on one side and sixty penny on the other side. I have had several different fellows helping me. Sometime the fellows helping me are of a higher rank but I am responsible for the correctness of the work.

We are sure having some fine weather to work. It isn't near as hot as it is at home this time of the year. It is real splendid here.

The wells finished now and we have plenty of water. I think we will have a bath house pretty soon. I am getting to be a real washwoman. I have just finished washing my clothes.

It seems like the Y. M. C. A. is somewhat slow but I guess it will be here some day. It is beginning to look like a real American camp here now.

I have subscribed for the "Stars and Stripes" newspaper. When I get it I will read it and mail it on to you. It is the soldiers' paper and gives some good news.

Give me the address of Alvah and Bennie Oliver when you write again. I would be glad to know the address of all the home boys. Is John still in Co. H, First Oklahoma Infantry, Ft. Worth, Texas? I think most all of the boys from around home are still in the States. I never hear anything of them over here.

We are working only about 8 1-2 hours now. That makes it much nicer. We have more time to write etc. A fellow can do all the carpenter work in that time that he can do in 10 hours but they work 10 hours nearly everywhere else.

I will sure be glad when "Anis le guerre" (the war is over) so we can return to America. Only those who

ASSASSINATION OF FORMER RUSSIAN EMPRESS REPORTED.

Madrid, Sept. 6.—Adelapach was received here last night from London reporting the assassination of the former Russian empress and her daughters, but in view of the steps taken by King Alfonso to obtain the transfer to Spain of the family of the deposed and murdered Russian monarch, the report was treated with all reserve.

El Sol says the Spanish Ambassador at Berlin conferred on the question of removing the former Empress and her daughters from Russia with Ambassador Joffre, the Bolshevik Ambassador at Berlin.

There remain only a few formalities to complete, which will take only a few days, El Sol says, and then the former Empress and her children will come to Spain on a yacht flying the papal colors.

STAMPING OUT PRUSSIANISM

—Harry Murphy in the Chicago Examiner.

Conserve Your Money

It is just as vital that the wealth of the citizens of this country be conserved as that any other necessity be conserved to aid in the winning of the War.

Money is the greatest requirement of the Government; the absolutely paramount commodity, the essential thing which we can all have a part in providing.

The Capital Issues Committee Was Created to Help Conserve Money

The Capital Issues Committee has legal jurisdiction over all issues in excess of $100,000 and has requested that all issues of $100,000 or less be submitted to the District Committee for approval.

It will be regarded as an unpatriotic act for any stock to be sold which has not received the permission of the Capital Issues Committee, and all citizens are asked to co-operate with the Committee by refusing to buy any stock which has not been submitted to the Committee and received the proper permit.

Insist Upon Seeing the Permit Before Buying Any Stock

When you are asked to buy stock or bonds in any company, insist upon seeing the permit of the Capital Issues Committee for its sale. Do not accept any statement that it is all right, that the permit is in the offices of the company. DO NOT BUY ANY STOCK unless the proper permit is produced for your inspection.

Do not trade your LIBERTY BONDS for any stock, no matter if a permit for its sale has been issued or not. The boys at the front have enlisted for the duration of the War. Surely you should enlist your money without reservation.

You owe to the Government your co-operation in providing the money needed to carry on the War, and the Capital Issues Committee helps you to avoid non-essential investments.

Please do all that you can to assist the Government in this direction.

ASA E. RAMSAY,
Chairman District Committee on Capital Issues,
For the Tenth Federal Reserve District,
Kansas City, Missouri.
